Project Overview

The “Leaders for Tomorrow” Summer School is designed for future leaders who want to develop business, leadership, and self-management skills in an international environment. This hybrid program blends virtual learning, real-world experiences, and hands-on activities focused on business impact and sustainable development. You’ll explore how personal growth, leadership, and social responsibility intersect with entrepreneurial success—all in the context of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

Project Highlights

15 Hours Online Learning (mid-May - mid-June): SDGs and self-management; personal SWOT analysis; leadership case studies and entrepreneurship

40 Hours In-Class Learning (June 2 – June 6, 2024) – Osijek, Croatia: workshops (leadership and business strategies); group work & field research (real-world problem-solving); company visits (insights from sustainable and women-led businesses); cultural exploration (city tour and wine walk; visit to Kopački Rit; following in the footsteps of the Croatian nobility - the castles of Slavonia)

Why Should You Apply?

- ✚ Gain Real-World Skills: Leadership, teamwork, and adaptability
- ✚ Work on Real Challenges: Business strategies linked to the SDGs
- ✚ Career Boost: Develop skills in teamwork, adaptability, and self-management
- ✚ Network & Explore: Connect with peers and professionals while experiencing Croatia
